GLOSSARY

The Golden Goblet by Eloise Jarvis McGraw

■ CHAPTER 1

crucible a vessel made of material that does not melt easily; used for high temperature chemical reactions (a melting pot) ingot a mass of metal cast in a convenient form for shaping amulet an object worn, especially around the neck, as a charm against evil or injury annealing to make less brittle by heating then cooling (as with glass or steel) tempered hardened ingratiatingly in a flattering manner sibilant of, characterized by, or producing a hissing sound like that of /s/ or /sh/servile abjectly submissive; slavish; of or suitable to a slave or servant sidle to move sideways frond the leaf of a fern scribe A public clerk or secretary, especially in ancient times bosses knob-like ornaments; studs diffident lacking confidence fowler a bird catcher; someone who hunts wild birds for food surly rude, unfriendly disposition brusquely roughly; in an abrupt manner graven sculpted

■ CHAPTER 2

aspects appearances

jocular playful, jesting irresolute uncertain

meander to follow a winding and turning course thicket a dense growth of shrubs or underbrush papyrus a tall, aquatic, Mediterranean plant crag a steep rugged cliff or rock spasmodically relating to abnormal muscular contractions

extricate to release or free from entanglement temerity boldness; presumptuous daring unprepossessing not creating a favorable impression negligently carelessly contemptuous full of disdain or scorn bewildered confused fishmonger one who sells fish for food ingrate ungrateful person invariable constant, not changing vindictively intended for revenge; vicious reproachful with an expression of disapproval deigning [DANE • ing] condescending; lowering oneself mourner a person who is feeling grief (as grieving over someone who has died) funerary of or suitable for a funeral or burial.

■ CHAPTER 3

jubilant expressing joy buoyant cheering or invigorating; lighthearted droll having a humorous or odd quality dullard a stupid person idle inactive; avoiding work or employment; lazy obeisance [o • BEY • sunts] homage; a bow to show respect mollified soothed in temper; appeased ferment agitation

rapt carried away with emotion abashed embarrassed flippant lacking seriousness bulwarks a wall-like defensive structure dike a low wall of earth and rock built to prevent floods insolent rude; disrespectful

■ CHAPTER 4

scrupulously painstakingly, with great care irascible [ih • RASS • ih • bull] hot tempered glibly with careless ease peremptorily as a command

■ CHAPTER 5

complacently in a satisfied manner furtive stealthy; sly

obsequious [ uhb • SEE • kwee • us ] fawning; sycophantic

■ CHAPTER 6

sarcophagus a stone coffin, often inscribed or decorated with sculpture akimbo hands on hips and elbows turned outward interminable [in • TER • muh • nih • bull] endless monotony boredom; lacking in variety malevolent wishing harm to others elusive tending to avoid capture nocturnal occurring in the night recede to move back or away from

■ CHAPTER 7

scythe a long, curved single-edged blade with a long bent handle, used for mowing or reaping desiccated dried up respite [ RES • piht ] temporary delay menial humble; servile

belligerent eager to fight; hostile or aggressive bower shelter of boughs or vines voluminous large; having great volume

■ CHAPTER 8

austere stern; severe; strict self-recrimination the act of blaming oneself

■ CHAPTER 9

exhilarating stimulating; invigorating

■ CHAPTER 10

stealth secret procedure enigmatic perplexing; mysterious truncated shortened as if by having a part cut off audacious extremely bold or daring barque a sailing ship

■ CHAPTER 11

laconically using few words; expressing much in few words morosely gloomily or sullenly ill-humored, as a person or mood abstracted lost or deep in thought; preoccupied rogue a dishonest, knavish person; scoundrel malice ill intent; desire to inflict injury, harm, or suffering on another, either because of a hostile impulse or out of deep-seated meanness

■ CHAPTER 12

tactfully with consideration; with a keen sense of what is appropriate or tasteful chortle a gleeful chuckle ludicrously so as to arouse or deserve laughter

■ Chapter 13

hillock a small hill

restive restless; uneasy

■ CHAPTER 14

futile incapable of producing any result; ineffective; useless; not successful citadel any strongly fortified place; stronghold.

vengeance desire for revenge

■ CHAPTER 15

blemish a defect or flaw; something that detracts from the appearance scandalized shocked or horrified by something considered immoral or improper

■ CHAPTER 16

profound intense; complete antechamber a chamber or room that serves as a waiting room and entrance to a larger room or an apartment incredulous disinclined to believe; skeptical tremulously characterized by trembling, as from fear, nervousness, or weakness.